1 (ALL PARTIES VIA TELEPHONE, October 14, 2020, 2 4:03 p.m.)

3 THE COURT: Good afternoon, everyone, this is Judge 4 Schneider. If you're not speaking, could you please put your 5 phone on mute, because we can hear some background noise.
6 Great.

7 Sarah, are you there?

8 THE DEPUTY CLERK: I'm here, Judge.

9 THE COURT: And do we have a court reporter?

10 THE COURT REPORTER: Yes, Judge, Karen Friedlander.

11 THE COURT: Hi, Karen.

12 Okay. We're on the record. This is Judge Schneider
13 in the Valsartan MDL, Docket No. 19-2875.

14 Can we have the entries of appearance of lead counsel 15 for both sides and whoever is going to talk, please, as 16 always, state your name so the court reporter knows who's 17 talking.

18 Let's start with the plaintiff.

19 MR. SLATER: Hello, Your Honor, Adam Slater for 20 plaintiffs.

21 MR HONIK: Good afternoon, Your Honor, Ruben Honik
22 for plaintiffs.

23 MR. NIGH: Good afternoon, Your Honor, Daniel Nigh
24 for plaintiffs.

25 MS. WHITELEY: Good afternoon, Your Honor, this is

1 Conlee Whiteley on behalf of plaintiffs.

2 THE COURT: And defendants.

3 MR. GOLDBERG: Good afternoon, Judge, this is Seth
4 Goldberg on behalf of the ZHP parties and the defendants.

5 MS. LOCKARD: Hi, Judge, it's Victoria Lockard from 6 Greenburg Traurig for Teva and on behalf of the defendants, I
7 also have Jeff Greene from Greenberg Traurig and Dr. Maura 8 Grossman on. I know they may not be needed, based on Your 9 Honor's e-mail, but in case, we do have them on just in case.

10 MR. TRISCHLER: Good afternoon, Your Honor, Clem
11 Trischler for the Mylan defendants.

12 MR. GEOPPINGER: Good afternoon, Your Honor, Jeff 13 Geoppinger for the distributor defendants and 14 AmerisourceBergen.

15 MS. JOHNSTON: And good afternoon, Your Honor, Sarah 16 Johnston on behalf of the retailer and pharmacy defendants, 17 CVS and Rite Aid.

18 THE COURT: Thank you for your letters, Counsel.
19 We'll deal with all of the issues. I want to tell you that we 20 have a special guest star on this conference call today, 21 Magistrate Judge Williams, and she'll be on this call. In 22 case you don't know, Magistrate Judge Williams is going to 23 take over the management of the case from a magistrate judge
24 perspective when I retire from the bench as of January 15, so
25 we thought now is a good start to start bringing Magistrate

1 Judge Williams up to speed and to transition things.

2 Are you there, Judge Williams?

3 JUDGE WILLIAMS: I am here.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Well, we appreciate you being on 5 the call.

6 JUDGE WILLIAMS: Thank you.

7 THE COURT: Counsel, I received your letters. We're 8 going to deal with all the issues as we always do. If you'll 9 indulge me, I might go a little out of order, but I have all 10 my notes and when we wrap up, all the issues will be dealt 11 with.

12 I'd like to start with the Teva issue, and Mr. Greene
13 and the consultant, you're welcome to stay on the call as long 14 as you want, but when we're done talking about the Teva issue, 15 if you want to hang up, I won't feel insulted.

16 We're going to have to bring this issue to a head,
17 we're going to have to decide it. I'm not going to decide it 18 before the plaintiffs have a fair and sufficient opportunity
19 to respond to the letter, but Teva raises some very important 20 issues.

21 I know the parties differ. Obviously, I'm very, very 22 familiar with the background and since Teva raised it and they 23 requested certain relief, we're going to have deal with the 24 issue and decide it.

25 So, Mr. Slater, I just want to find out from

1 plaintiffs' perspective, how much time you want to respond to 2 Teva's letter. As long as it's reasonable, it's fine with the 3 Court. I do want to get the issue resolved before 4 January 15th, because of my background on the issue, and what 5 we've been through up to date. I don't think it's appropriate 6 to put it on Judge Williams's plate, so what do you think?

7 MR. SLATER: Thank you, Your Honor. Having looked at 8 their letter again after I e-mailed Your Honor immediately
9 after receiving it, I think that we'll need at least two weeks
10 to respond because they raised a bunch of different points.

11 If we can get it to Your Honor before that, we 12 certainly will, we just have a lot going on, so I think just 13 to be safe, if two weeks is acceptable, that would be the 14 outside for us.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Why don't we say October 30th.
16 Okay?

17 MR. SLATER: Thank you.

18 THE COURT: All right. And Teva, can you respond by 19 November 6th?

20 MR. GREENE: Hi, Your Honor, it's good to talk with 21 you again. Jeff Greene here. We certainly can, Your Honor.
22 I do think, you know, to the extent if there's any sort of 23 expeditious handling that we could get here, that would be 24 helpful because there is, obviously, you know, production
25 deadlines at the end, you know, production deadlines coming up

1 at the end of November, and my concern and this was our 2 concern all along was, you know, if this gets pushed out too 3 long, we're going to be in a position where we may not have 4 our production complete by November 30th, if we're not allowed 5 to leverage CAML and to, you know, assert proportionality for 6 the review of the nonresponsive documents.

7 So that's the only concern I have is drawing this 8 out, and I'm not suggesting the Court is, puts Teva in a 9 difficult position where we don't really know where this is 10 going to go, if that makes sense.

11 THE COURT: Well, we're going to do this, Mr. Greene.
12 We're not going to cut short plaintiffs' right to respond to 13 your letter, so we're going to give plaintiffs until 14 October 30 to respond. We'll give Teva until November 6 to 15 reply, and we will tee up the issue for argument at the 16 mid-November conference. I'll talk to you about the date of 17 that. It will probably be November 11. It's a Court holiday, 18 but I'm still prepared to go forward with the call on that 19 date.

20 I understand the issue that you raised. I'm not 21 unsympathetic to it, however, the issue was raised just 22 yesterday, the implications of the issue are enormous in the 23 context of this case, at least as far as plaintiffs are 24 concerned. I think the issue deserves a full and complete 25 hearing, and if it means that Teva doesn't get a decision as

1 promptly as they would like, we'll just have to live with the 2 consequences.

3 I can tell you, Mr. Greene, that under no
4 circumstances is the Court extending any deadline for any 5 defendant to produce its responsive documents and ESI. We 6 have been over this time and time again in this case. It was 7 back in the -- either the early winter or spring, I don't 8 recall right now, we set a deadline for the production.

9 I remember it was Mr. Trischler who approached the 10 Court and asked for an extension of time, because, apparently, 11 the defendants didn't anticipate that it would take as much
12 time as it did to produce the documents. I remember that it 13 was Mr. Trischler who asked for an extension of time until 14 November 29 to complete the production. I remember that 15 plaintiffs objected to the lengthy time period it would take 16 to complete the production.

17 The Court gave the defendants the benefit of the 18 doubt and gave the defendants exactly what they asked for.
19 They wanted that extension until November 29th, over 20 plaintiffs' objection, the Court granted the extension, and it 21 included the rolling production dates.

22 Since the Court granted defendants what they asked 23 for over plaintiffs' objection and the defendants have been on 24 notice of this deadline for months and months and months, no
25 good cause has been established to extend the deadlines.

1           So that's the Court's position with regard to the 2 request, if there is one, to extend any deadlines to complete
3 the ESI and document production that presently exists.

4           I would like to address a couple of issues with 5 regard to Teva's letter, which I think would help the Court
6 make an informed decision about what to do.

7           It would be very helpful, plaintiff, to the Court's 8 eventual ruling in this case, if you're going to rely on cases
9 where the Court ordered the defendants to produce or review, 10 quote unquote, nonresponsive documents. If you could make 11 sure you cite those cases and point them out, because I would 12 like to see precedent of that, if it exists. And I know when 13 we had our separate conversations, I recall Teva arguing that 14 no case has ever required a defendant to review documents
15 which are deemed nonresponsive pursuant to a TAR review, and I 16 seem to recall that it was plaintiffs who disputed that point, 17 so I'm particularly interested in seeing those cases.

18           From Teva's point of view, when you get to reply, if 19 you -- and I assume you will, Teva frequently argues in its 20 brief and it did in its latest brief that there are cases
21 permitting TAR review with -- I'm sorry, search term review
22 with layered TAR review.

23           Again, I very much would like to see those cases 24 because that would be a very important precedent that the 25 Court would have to review in order to make an informed

1 decision.

2           So I've read, I'm familiar with the older briefs that 3 were filed. I've obviously read Teva's brief that was filed
4 yesterday, and it just seems to me that the parties can help
5 the Court by focusing their arguments and discussion not 6 exclusively on these points that I've just raised, but I've 7 highlighted for you what would be particularly persuasive to 8 the Court.

9           I know that Teva has time and time again relied upon 10 their consultant/expert who apparently represents that there
11 has been no case where a validation protocol included a review
12 of nonresponsive documents, or, where a Court has ordered a 13 defendant to review, quote unquote, nonresponsive documents.

14           Plaintiff disputes that point. Those are the cases I 15 would really like to see, and I'll read those cases and will 16 study them and that will help me make an informed decision 17 about what to do in this case.

18           DR. GROSSMAN: Your Honor, Your Honor --

19           THE COURT: Let me just --

20           DR. GROSSMAN: Okay.

21           THE COURT: Can I just --

22           DR. GROSSMAN: Yeah, I just wanted to correct 23 something.

24           THE COURT: Okay. There might be more than one thing
25 to correct, but let me just -- I think there was one other

1 point -- I think that was Ms. Cohen. Let me just make one
2 other point and then I'll turn the floor over. Bear with me 3 one second.

4 I want to direct the question to Mr. Slater and this 5 may be a point that you want to discuss in your brief. On 6 Footnote 2, Page 3 of Teva's letter, they represent that they 7 had a communication with the plaintiffs at the November 15, 8 2019, in-person ESI meeting, that they said they were 9 considering TAR review, and they reserved their right to do it 10 but they haven't made a final decision.

11 I don't know what plaintiffs' position is with regard 12 to that representation, so it would be helpful to the Court to 13 know the history of discussions regarding the TAR review 14 because I know that the electronic discovery protocol in the 15 case, that is a Court order and was entered with the consent
16 of the parties, talks about TAR review and when does this -- 17 it may address when to disclose it, et cetera, et cetera.

18 But I think that's an important point that the Court
19 needs to know. I know plaintiffs' position, apparently, if I 20 remember right, was that this -- the thought that Teva was 21 going to do this TAR review was sprung on it at the last 22 moment. Teva takes the position that they raised it at the 23 November 15th meeting. I don't know what plaintiffs' position 24 is regarding that disclosure, so it would be helpful if the 25 Court -- for the Court if you also addressed that issue.

1 Thank you, Mr. Slater.

2 MR. SLATER: You're welcome, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: You wanted to say something?

4 DR. GROSSMAN: This is Dr. Grossman. I just wanted
5 to clarify what I understood the position that Teva and myself
6 said to you. I do not believe we represented that there's 7 never been any review of nonresponsive documents. Parties 8 have certainly agreed to that.

9 I am not aware of any case outside of a punitive 10 context, in other words, something had went wrong or a party
11 had failed to produce in time or a party sua sponte changed
12 course midstream and didn't notify the other side. But I'm 13 not aware of any case outside of those two contexts where a 14 party has been ordered to produce nonresponsiveness -- 15 nonresponsive documents.

16 I think it would be fair to say the majority view is 17 that plaintiffs are not entitled to nonresponsive documents.
18 I just didn't want you to believe that we had said there's 19 never ever ever been a case where nonresponsiveness -- 20 nonresponsive docs haven't been reviewed.

21 THE COURT: Dr. Grossman, thank you very much for 22 that clarification, and I think you raise a good point that I 23 assume Mr. Slater and his group is going to address in his 24 reply due in two weeks.

25 I know that Teva takes the position as it stated in

1 its letter that it served, that the Court has to really
2 address only the proportionality issue. One of the things
3 that I assume plaintiffs are going to address in their letter
4 is whether there was a breach of the electronic discovery
5 protocol in this case because of the alleged late disclosure,
6 which would bring this case into the, quote unquote, punitive 7 context that you talked about.

8           There is a dispute in this case and Teva's letter 9 means that we're going to have to squarely address it, whether 10 there was a breach of the electronic discovery protocol or 11 not, because of plaintiffs' contention, which may be disputed 12 by Teva, that there was a late disclosure of the use of TAR.

13           So I don't know right now, we'll have to see what the 14 record is and how things develop, whether this case falls 15 within the, quote unquote, punitive line of cases.

16           But even if it doesn't, we'll have -- this Court will 17 have to address the issue of outside the punitive context, 18 does it have the authority to order Teva to produce 19 nonresponsive -- quote unquote, nonresponsive documents.

20           So I'm not making any decision now, Dr. Grossman. I 21 appreciate your clarification and I thank you for doing that.
22 I think -- I'm not trying to mislead or misstate anything, but 23 there are a number of different issues here, and I know from 24 reading Teva's letter and the background this Court has as to 25 this dispute, that a lot of the representations that Teva

1 makes in its letter are going to be disputed by plaintiffs,
2 and that's what I'm here for and eventually, I'm going to have 3 to rule.

4 Is there anything else we need to deal with on the 5 Teva issue? And like I said, if the doctor and Mr. Greene
6 want to excuse themselves, that's fine, if they want to stay 7 on the call, that's fine, but I would like to exhaust that 8 issue now so we give them an opportunity to excuse themselves 9 if they want to remove themselves from the call.

10 MR. SLATER: Nothing further from plaintiffs, Your 11 Honor.

12 MR. GREENE: Your Honor, this is Jeff Greene. Thank 13 you for your time. Nothing further from defendant Teva on 14 this.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Doctor, if you want to stay on the 16 call, you're welcome to. But, like I said, I won't be 17 insulted if you excuse yourselves.

18 MR. GREENE: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: That was the first issue I wanted to deal
20 with. Again, I'm taking this a little out of order.

21 Mr. Goldberg, there was a request in your letter to 22 extend the plaintiffs' class rep depositions. Let's be clear, 23 the Court didn't order that these depositions start on December 1.
24 If you want to start them December 1, God bless you, that's 25 fine with the Court. The Court order stated that they shall

1 start no later than January 15th. That decision is up to the 2 defendants, but I know that in your letter filed yesterday, 3 you requested an extension of those deadlines. The Court will 4 hear you on that issue.

5 MR. GOLDBERG: Thank you, Your Honor, and I'm going 6 to turn this over to my colleague, Rebecca Bazan, who has been 7 focusing on this specific issue.

8 MS. BAZAN: Thank you, Mr. Goldberg. Good afternoon,
9 Your Honor, this is Rebecca Bazan, that's spelled B-A-Z-A-N,
10 from Duane Morris.

11 Your Honor put into place this four-tiered sort of 12 reverse waterfall process for defendant fact sheets and as far 13 back at least as January, we've discussed that the main 14 purpose of that defendant fact sheet process is the product
15 identification issue, and hand-in-hand with the product
16 identification issue is the proper defendant identification 17 issue, and plaintiffs argued that they needed the defendant 18 fact sheets to be filled out at every level so they could get 19 answers to the product identification issue.

20 And we think it's important that the proper 21 defendants be identified or at least have the possibility of 22 being identified so that they can attend every class
23 representative deposition that purports to include product 24 that they've manufactured or sold.

25 So we requested that the timeframe for punitive class

1 representative depositions be extended to allow at least the 2 majority of the defendant fact sheet process to run its 3 course.

4 THE COURT: Do the plaintiffs want to be heard on 5 this issue?

6 MR. SLATER: Yes, Your Honor, Adam -- go ahead,
7 David, go ahead.

8 MR. STANOCH: Thanks, Adam. You can jump in. Your 9 Honor, this is David Stanoch for the plaintiff. Your Honor, 10 we disagree with defendants' position that the cascading 11 defendants' fact sheet process has -- was implicated here for 12 the 20 or so class reps. The issue of identification was 13 principally important on the personal injury side for the 14 hundreds and hundreds of people. And at the time, defendants' 15 issue was the burden and needing time and they didn't want to 16 be swamped with dozens and dozens and dozens and hundreds of 17 these at once.

18 That's not what we're talking about here. The class
19 representatives have completed their fact sheets nine months 20 ago. There's no active deficiency that were ever listed for 21 Judge Kugler, they have all the records they need.

22 Even if all of that was not true, Your Honor, we're 23 talking 20 or so people that these defendants can easily find 24 in their own data and poll to get whatever additional 25 information they think they need and figure it out outside of

1 the DFS process.

2 Most of the fact sheets already identify down to 3 street address, pharmacies used and which defense pharmacy, 4 NDC codes of the manufacturers' products, to the extent it was 5 available in the pharmacy records. All this information is at 6 their fingertips and has been at their fingertips for months 7 and months and months.

8 So we disagree with the -- we have a number, a 9 majority of our class reps are available anytime after 10 Thanksgiving to sit for deposition, we're ready to go, and the 11 suggestion that this has to wait until the end of the fact
12 sheet process in mid-April 2021, and then further, they say 13 the end of August 31st, strikes us as a gross delay in this 14 case, given the narrow scope of the small number of class reps 15 that are at issue here.

16 MS. BAZAN: Your Honor, if I --

17 MR. SLATER: I'm sorry. Let me just add to that just 18 for the plaintiffs, please.

19 Your Honor, we're going to be continuing to provide 20 dates for class representatives, including the TPPs. It's my 21 understanding that dates in November are going to be provided, 22 and in December. Our interest is in moving this case forward, 23 which, you know, we've heard the Court loud and clear that the 24 case needs to move, and, you know, it's pretty obvious what's 25 happening and we don't want to -- we don't want to push any

1 deadline off. We want to start producing people very soon to 2 be deposed.

3 I mean, these are simple depositions. What could you 4 be asking a class rep, that that class rep themselves is going
5 to know about. They took the drug, they paid for it. You
6 know, that's pretty much it. How long can these depositions 7 take? Two hours? It's hard to fathom.

8 So from our perspective, we want to move forward with 9 this as soon as possible. We took to heart what Your Honor 10 told us months and months and months ago, which is the 11 low-hanging fruit for depositions is going to be the plaintiff 12 class reps.

13 So, you know, we're looking to start parading them up 14 for depositions and get these -- which should be very simple 15 straightforward depositions if they're taken appropriately, 16 done as soon as possible.

17 MS. BAZAN: Your Honor, if I may.

18 THE COURT: Last word, Ms. Bazan.

19 MS. BAZAN: Thank you, Your Honor. The defendant
20 fact sheets were always negotiated together, the class 21 representatives and the personal injury plaintiffs. Your 22 Honor entered an order specifically laying out the trigger
23 date for the class representatives and for the personal injury
24 plaintiffs. There are 34 punitive class representatives, 24 25 from the economic loss Master Complaint and ten from the 1 medical monitoring Master Complaint.

2 So it is hard to understand at this moment how, you
3 know, plaintiffs fought so hard to have this defendant fact 4 sheet processed, which some of the defendants at least fought 5 and plaintiff fought for, said it was absolutely necessary.

6 So it's either important or it's not in terms of 7 product identification in identifying the proper defendants.
8 Plaintiff had always taken the position before today that it 9 was necessary.

10 MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor, this is Seth Goldberg. If 11 I may add one point, which is that the thing that we're asking 12 for is to enlarge the period of time for the class
13 representative depositions, because as it's currently ordered, 14 the two-or-three-month period that has been set, won't be 15 sufficient to take all of the depositions in time for all of 16 the defendant fact sheets to be completed.

17 For example, there are some class representatives
18 whose defendant fact -- whose plaintiff fact sheets have only 19 been completed in the past month or two, and so their 20 defendant -- the defendant fact sheets for those class 21 representatives are on a delayed schedule as a result of the 22 delayed completion of the plaintiff fact sheet.

23 And so what we want to be -- what we're really more 24 concerned about, you know, enlarging the end date period, you 25 know, enlarging the period so that we can complete the

1 depositions in -- as the defendant fact sheets are being 2 completed.

3 MS. BAZAN: And one other thing I would like to note.
4 This is Rebecca Bazan again. You know, plaintiffs are saying 5 that they are offering up dates for November or December, but 6 the Court I believe will get to later in this call, we're 7 still negotiating whether the class representatives including 8 the TPP class representatives will have to respond by document 9 requests.

10 Once those are entered, then they'll have a certain 11 amount of time to respond, but November is just not feasible
12 for being able to begin these depositions.

13 MR. SLATER: Your Honor, for the plaintiffs, we don't 14 mind if they want to say that there may be a need to take 15 depositions of class reps beyond January or February, if that 16 becomes necessary, because obviously, there may be reasons why 17 they have to happen, so we don't have a problem with that. We 18 just want to get this process going and get started. That's 19 our position.

20 THE COURT: Thank you, Counsel.

21 The Court's ruling is the request to extend or change 22 the current scheduling deadlines of the depositions of the 23 class plaintiffs is denied. In the Court's view, no good 24 cause has been established to extend these deadlines. If we 25 keep on extending deadlines in this case, we'll never get this

1 case over with.

2           The Court is going to say something with regard to 3 these plaintiffs' depositions that apply to all depositions in 4 this case. If it turns out, and let me just add, that I take 5 this position not only in this MDL, but I take the same
6 position in the thousands of cases that I manage and handle.
7 If we wait until every last breath or piece of paper is 8 produced to start scheduling depositions, they'll never get 9 done and the case will languish forever.

10           If a deposition is taken and it turns out that 11 documents or relevant information is produced after that 12 deposition that should have been produced before the 13 deposition and is material to the deposition, you'll get a 14 chance to redepose the witness.

15           In the years of experience this Court has had, that 16 very, very, very rarely happens, but when it does, the 17 consequence is that the witness gets redeposed. The beauty of 18 that procedure is that it incentivizes the deponent to 19 complete their document production before their scheduled
20 deposition so that they don't run the risk of being deposed a 21 second time.

22           In the Court's view, the defendants have and will 23 have more than sufficient information to adequately depose 24 these class plaintiffs.

25           But if it turns out that material information is

1 produced after these plaintiffs' depositions that should have 2 been produced before the deposition, I'll put this in an order
3 to be entered, the Court will very seriously consider a 4 request to redepose that witness.

5 So the bottom line is, these depositions are going to 6 start and end according to the schedule set forth in the 7 order.

8 It's up to the defendants when they want to start 9 these depositions. If they want to squeeze them in, they'll 10 wait until January 15th to start. If they want to give 11 themselves breathing room, they'll start them December 1, but 12 I won't be here to make the decision. But if I was making the 13 decision, come the end of the deadline, if the defendants 14 start complaining that they don't have enough time to complete
15 the deps, I'll say why did you start them on January 15th 16 instead of December 1? That was totally and completely within 17 the defendants' control how much time they want to complete 18 and take these depositions.

19 The order is clear on the schedule. No good cause 20 has been established or shown to extend these deadlines, and 21 the order's not going to be extended, but I will add this, I 22 think Mr. Goldberg raised a good point that the Court had not 23 considered, and will make this accommodation. In fairness to 24 the defendants, they should have plaintiffs' answers to fact 25 sheets before the deposition.

1 I don't know if this is going to come into play or 2 not, but I'm going to add to the Court's order, that at a 3 minimum, plaintiffs have to provide the fact sheets at least 4 21 days before their depositions are taken, and that should 5 protect the defendants and give them time, if information is 6 produced late, and that was something that the Court hadn't 7 considered, but I think it is an important point to protect 8 the defendants' interests.

9 I don't know if that will ever come into play given 10 the schedule in this case, but in the exercise of caution, I'm 11 going to add that to the Court's order.

12 The next issue --

13 MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Yes.

15 MR. GOLDBERG: I would like to -- this is Seth 16 Goldberg. I can come back to that point, when we talk about 17 the Rule 34 discovery.

18 THE COURT: Okay. The next item I want to raise is, 19 I note that the defendants and perhaps the plaintiffs have 20 asked for oral argument on the Rule 12 motions.

21 Counsel, that's an issue that's going to be totally 22 and completely decided by Judge Kugler. I'll try and get an 23 answer for you before the end of the month, but if I don't get 24 back to you before the end of the month, you can certainly 25 raise that issue with Judge Kugler at the end of the month.

1 But I'm afraid that it's not something I have any input into,
2 so I can't help you with that issue.

3           The last issue I want to address before we get to the 4 agenda items that the parties raised is, the current order
5 provides that the deposition protocol has to be at least a 6 draft of it or hopefully a final version, which we're thinking 7 is going to be submitted by the end of the month or at least a
8 list of the disputes, and I had suggested, I think there 9 should be an addendum for each of the parties, because each of 10 the manufacturer defendants are going to face peculiar 11 problems.

12           Can I assume the parties are on track with their 13 discussions about the deposition protocol and things are 14 moving forward on that? Because the defendant deps are going 15 to start no later than January 15th. We know the enormous, 16 enormous logistical problems that those depositions are going 17 to create, so it's just critical to keep the case on track, 18 that we keep these issues on the front burner.

19           So have the parties been having these discussions 20 about the protocol?

21           MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor, this is Seth Goldberg. We 22 met -- we had a few discussions a few weeks ago. We met again 23 today to talk about the protocol. Our hope is that we will at 24 a minimum have agreement on most of the terms and have, as you 25 put it, you know, be able to raise issues for you to resolve,

1 if any, at the end of the month.

2 So we are -- we are working toward that objective.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Goldberg, have the parties discussed 4 whether it's appropriate to have these separate addendums for 5 each of the manufacturer defendants?

6 MR. GOLDBERG: That is not something we have 7 discussed, so we can put that on the agenda for our next call 8 as a group.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Because I just anticipate, if I'm 10 wrong, that would be great, I hope I'm wrong, but I 11 just anticipate there will be peculiar items, peculiar issues, 12 you know. The ZHP has its own issues, obviously, that may be 13 different from Teva, or Mylan, or Aurobindo, et cetera.

14 MR. GOLDBERG: I think that's a fair point, and, you 15 know, we'll work that into our discussions.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Let's get to the parties' agenda
17 items, and the first item I have on the list is what you 18 raised, Mr. Goldberg, the document requests.

19 The separate document request is the economic class 20 plaintiffs. I don't think there's a dispute that if it's 21 duplicative of what's in the fact sheet, you know, they don't 22 have to be answered, but, of course, I anticipate there's 23 going to be a dispute about whether they are, in fact, 24 duplicative, right?

25 MR. GOLDBERG: Well, right. There are a few things

1 going on here, Your Honor. This is Seth Goldberg. You know,
2 there is a dispute as to whether the request that we're now
3 seeking are duplicative. That's been the only objection
4 asserted to the requests. We don't think they are and we had 5 a meet and confer with plaintiffs and, you know, after hearing 6 their position that they are duplicative, we identified the 7 specific documents that we think are not duplicative. They 8 are in our insert on Page 2 of our submission.

9 And I think one point -- and there are a few points I 10 would like to cover on this issue on the duplicative point, we 11 don't think they are duplicative. The wording in the 12 plaintiff fact sheets is not written to cover any of these 13 kinds of documents that are on Page 2 of our submission, in 14 particular, are the insurance and deductible information.

15 But if they are duplicative, you know, plaintiffs 16 should have to certify that they searched for and collected 17 these kind of documents that are in their possession, and what 18 they have very clearly said in their paper is that they didn't 19 do that and they shouldn't have to do that now.

20 And, you know, of course, defendants have been 21 required to produce not only core discovery throughout 2019
22 before even getting to document requests, but then total, 140
23 document requests, about 70 to 80 just on the manufacturer
24 defendants.

25 So we don't read the plaintiff fact sheet as being

1 the limit on defendants' discovery of the economic class
2 representatives, both the consumers and the TPPs. We read it 3 as a source of information that is central to a specific 4 plaintiffs' claim, and -- but not the information, not the 5 information that's core to their class certification 6 allegations.

7           And the information we're seeking now with the Rule 8 34 requests are truly essential to the questions about 9 ascertainability and their damages calculation, and this kind 10 of information is not covered in the plaintiff fact sheets, 11 it's information that we need to be able to understand their 12 theory and to be able to defend or oppose their motion for 13 class certification. And, you know, in essence, they're 14 claiming that they should be reimbursed a hundred percent of 15 any payment made for any of defendants' ECDs even if they 16 weren't contaminated, and what we're trying to do is to obtain 17 the information that is in their possession that shows all of 18 the variations from consumer to consumer, not just these class 19 reps, but remember, they represent thousands and thousands of 20 alleged consumers of these drugs, and all of these consumers 21 who are paying co-pays, who have insurance, all of their 22 payments are subject to pharmacy benefit plans, formularies,
23 drug -- out-of-pocket caps, pricing tiers, preferred pharmacy 24 options, preferred delivery options, each of which changes the 25 price that any one plaintiff or any one consumer would pay for

1 any prescription, let alone all of their prescriptions.

2 And all of these variations from prescription to 3 prescription, payment to payment, plaintiff to plaintiff, make 4 their case for ascertainability and a class-wide damages model 5 very challenging, and we -- we need this information, this is 6 kind of essential information that defendants are allowed -- 7 permitted to obtain in discovery.

8 THE COURT: Can I -- Mr. Goldberg, can I interrupt 9 for one moment?

10 Are there two issues that we have to address, one,
11 will defendants be permitted to serve Rule 34 document 12 requests, because plaintiffs argue that defendants are limited 13 to what's in the fact sheets. If we get over that hurdle, is 14 the second issue what we usually deal with, propriety of each 15 of the document requests?

16 MR. GOLDBERG: I don't think so, because plaintiffs 17 have not objected to any of the requests on any other basis 18 that they are duplicative, and the reality is -- and this is 19 what we -- we tried to have a discussion with them and, Your 20 Honor, if you look on Page 3, I believe, of our submission --
21 no, I'm sorry, Page 4, we tried to have a discussion with them
22 to understand if they, you know -- if we were missing 23 something, if this information wasn't somehow relevant to 24 their damages analysis, wasn't somehow relevant to how they 25 intend to prove up class certification, and, you know, they

1 don't object on a relevance basis, they can't object on a 2 burden basis, and, you know, it's really, I think especially 3 when it comes to the TPPs, that they are purporting to 4 represent an unknown number of assignors, okay. In their 5 master -- MSP recovery in particular, represents the claims of 6 assignors. In the Master Complaint, they identify three 7 assignors, Emblem, SummaCare and ConnectaCare. And those 8 three assignors completed plaintiff fact sheets. However, the 9 information that they provided is incomplete, even if these 10 requests were duplicative, the information those assignors 11 provided is incomplete.

12           So we would need to understand, do they intend to 13 supplement their incomplete production of things like 14 formularies and plan agreements and pricing to the extent they 15 claim it's duplicative.

16           But one thing that's missing, if I may, Your Honor.

17           THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead.

18           MR. GOLDBERG: I just want to make one more point, 19 which is that there are potentially other assignors, and we 20 don't know the number, but those assignors represent the 21 purchases that plaintiffs seek to claim in their damages 22 model. So unless plaintiffs are going to -- are going to 23 limit their damages to the three assignors who are named in 24 the Complaint, then we need more -- we -- and I don't think 25 they will, but you can ask them, are they going to limit their

1 damages to those three assignors, because if not, then all of 2 the other assignors whose claims they are going to include in 3 their damages analysis need to respond to the plaintiff fact 4 sheets or to the Rule 34 discovery or both.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Plaintiff, let me start with 6 asking you the first basic question. Are you objecting to 7 defendants' right to serve Rule 34 document requests before we 8 even get to the issue of the propriety of each of the 9 requests? What's your position on that?

10 MR. STANOCH: Good afternoon, again, Your Honor.
11 David Stanoch for plaintiffs. And the answer to that is, yes, 12 we do. I can elaborate, if Your Honor would like to.

13 THE COURT: Well, I want to hear your objection and 14 then I want to rule on it.

15 MR. STANOCH: Yes, thank you, Your Honor. Your 16 Honor, last year the parties exhaustively argued the plaintiff
17 fact sheets, including the economic loss fact sheets before
18 Your Honor, and at that time, Your Honor was asking defense
19 counsel, is this the information you'll need for class 20 certification, and that's what the defense counsel indicated.
21 There were requests that we said went beyond class 22 certification.

23 For example, Your Honor may recall, I think I argued 24 it, was, they wanted health care provider information and I 25 said to Your Honor then last year, I said, that has nothing to

1 do with the economic loss, how much they paid, how much they 2 were damaged, and the defendants said otherwise, and Your 3 Honor granted that, and there is a full health care provider
4 authorization for all of the providers who treated 5 hypertension with Valsartan or otherwise, even in other drugs.

6 So the purpose of that at that time was to make sure 7 the class cert issues, not potentially all merits issues for 8 all times, but the class cert issues were all understood and 9 put forth, and we proceeded on that basis and we filled out 10 the fact sheets and submitted them nine months ago to the 11 defendants.

12 And then we submitted trial plans to Your Honor or to 13 Judge Kugler, in early March, and nowhere in the trial plan 14 for the defendants did they identify any need or any 15 additional formal written discovery beyond what was in the 16 fact sheets and authorizations which they wrote and the Court 17 blessed.

18 And now here we are six or seven months later and 19 they're saying, wait, we do, in fact, need several more 20 documents. And it was a bit of a moving target a bit, Your 21 Honor, they had draft Rule 34 requests and then they give us a 22 condensed list, and then they have nine contention questions 23 to us as counsel, it was a little confusing, but that's where 24 we are and why we object on the initial issue, Your Honor.

25 MR. GOLDBERG: May I respond, Your Honor?

1 THE COURT: Time out, Mr. Goldberg, time out.

2 The Court's ruling is that the defendants have a
3 right to serve Rule 34 document requests. The Court does not 4 recall it being envisioned that the fact sheets would be 5 exhaustive with regard to all of the information the 6 defendants needed for class certification purposes.

7 So the real issue is whether the requests are 8 appropriate, extensive, et cetera, et cetera, the propriety of 9 each of the document requests. That's the real issue, not 10 whether defendants have a right to serve them or not, okay?

11 So I didn't mean to cut you off, Mr. Goldberg, but I
12 knew how I was going to rule on that issue and I didn't want 13 to belabor the point.

14 So now the issue becomes, how are we going to deal 15 with this issue.

16 I am not prepared during this call to go through each 17 request one by one to make a ruling, nor do I know if the 18 parties have exhausted their efforts to try and reach an 19 agreement, or are they at an impasse on what needs to be 20 produced.

21 Plaintiff, what's your position on that?

22 MR. RIVERO: Judge, may I be heard for a moment?
23 This is Andrés Rivero. I represent MSP, Judge, and I was 24 trying to make a comment. I know the Court has ruled, but if 25 I may, and I think it does relate to the general question.

1           Your Honor, and let me just say hello to Judge
2 Williams as well.

3           Judge, it's ironic, it was 354 days ago, I was before 4 you arguing many of the precise issues that are being raised 5 by the defendants now.

6           At that time, Judge, you may or may not recall, 7 Judge, but I had engaged in good faith with the defendants at 8 that time before that hearing, Ms. Lockard argued it, you 9 heard it, Judge, we had a full discussion about the matter and 10 at the end, you ruled that we were -- that what was ordered to 11 be done in the fact sheet was what we would have to do, but 12 that if the other side made a -- showed a genuine need for 13 class certification purposes, they could expand that.

14           Now, Judge, I understand the ruling. I just want to 15 say this. As you go to this consideration, they've made no
16 showing. In fact, there's a -- contrary to what Mr. Goldberg 17 has said, there's significant duplication, there's significant 18 categories that are irrelevant to any claim that we have. And 19 frankly, Judge, the issue about the -- they know that we gave 20 information on 62 percent of all of the individuals, the 21 assignors had -- in our total amounts, so Mr. Goldberg said he 22 doesn't know how much it is. They know and Ms. Lockard argued 23 it. They know it's 62 percent. We gave them the exact
24 number. We spent months on this, Judge. We provided to them 25 in March. They have never once objected to those as being in

1 any way inadequate, contrary to what Mr. Goldberg is saying 2 that they're incomplete.

3           They've had at this point, seven months and they 4 never said boo. Judge, it took us months. We had to go --
5 these are assignors, we went to a ConnectaCare, to SummaCare, 6 to Emblem, worked through what was ordered by the Court and 7 responded to it.

8           Judge, I understand that you're going to go deeper 9 into this. I wanted to make those statements. I'm not 10 expecting that you would change the ruling, but to make sure 11 that it's clear that we did a lot of work, we relied on an 12 order of the Court which was a year ago, and they never 13 objected for seven months, Judge, and that needs to bear in 14 the consideration of how this goes forward.

15           THE COURT: Well, counsel, everything you said is 16 consistent with the Court's conclusion. Where we are is the 17 propriety of each of their requests, and we're going to have 18 to deal with that.

19           And the question I asked from the plaintiffs'
20 perspective, do they believe they have exhausted their good 21 faith efforts to eliminate or at least narrow the disputes
22 with the defendants. That's the question I would like 23 answered.

24           MR. RIVERO: I'll answer that one briefly for us, 25 Judge. There are 35 -- pardon me, 38 document requests, many

1 of which are duplicative and irrelevant, and I'm certainly 2 always willing to try in good faith, because I think it would 3 be absurd to ask the Court to address all 38 of those.

4 MR. STANOCH: And, Your Honor, David Stanoch on the 5 consumer side. I agree that we have not fully exhausted the 6 meet-and-confer process and with this latest letter from 7 yesterday from defendants. We should be able, hopefully, very 8 promptly, to narrow some of these things for further 9 discussion.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Well, let's talk about when you're 11 going to meet and when we're going to tee up these issues to 12 get decided, okay? And if it means that we have to decide 13 them at the conference at the end of the month, that's 14 perfectly fine with the Court.

15 I just want to be satisfied that the parties can 16 represent to the Court, now that we're over the hurdle of 17 whether or not defendants have a right to at least serve these 18 requests, we're now to the nitty-gritty that we deal with all 19 the time, the propriety of each request, and I'd rather 20 resolve this issue sooner rather than later, so I can get 21 discovery dispute letters from you both in time to address
22 this during the conference at the end of the month.

23 MR. STANOCH: Your Honor, David Stanoch again for 24 plaintiffs.

25 We'd be happy -- some combination of us to move

1 promptly on this, and if it has to be the conference in two 2 weeks, so be it, but if it can happen sooner, we're committed 3 to doing that at the Court's convenience.

4 MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor, this is Seth Goldberg. Of 5 course, defendants, you know, will be happy to meet with 6 plaintiffs. I do just want to make, you know, two statements
7 to just correct the record, that we had a discussion last week 8 about the requests and at plaintiffs' request, we came up with 9 a narrower set, which is reflected in this list of what we 10 believe are not duplicative. We're happy to go through this 11 list with plaintiffs and talk about our requests.

12 Plaintiffs, you know, refer to the timing of things.
13 I just wanted to be clear, we attached last week to our -- or 14 two weeks ago to our submission, doc 582, Exhibit B, a 15 document that we provided to plaintiffs on January 4th of 16 2020, identifying just about every one of these documents and 17 letting them know, we expected them to be produced.

18 So this is not like defendants had waited and not 19 raised this issue before. But we're happy to work with 20 plaintiffs and, I mean, given all of the things that are going 21 on, we certainly will work to get this resolved for the 22 end-of-the-month conference.

23 THE COURT: Okay. So served -- each side will serve 24 their discovery dispute letters on this Rule 34 dispute by 25 Monday, the 26th, and we'll tee up the issue for argument and

1 decision at the conference on the 28th.

2 MR. STANOCH: Thank you, Your Honor.

3 MR. GOLDBERG: Thank you, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Next issue I have is the schedule for 5 class rep deps. I think we discussed that already.

6 The next issue is the Aurobindo privilege log issue.
7 Plaintiff, are we only talking about the one page 8 that was attached to your letter?

9 MR. SLATER: Hi, Your Honor, it's Adam Slater. It
10 is, and in fairness to Aurobindo, Aurobindo, they've asked us
11 if we would be amenable to discussing this with them before 12 asking for a ruling from the Court. We've scheduled a call 13 with them Friday, so we're happy to discuss that with them and 14 hold this issue for two weeks in the hope that we could 15 resolve it. But the answer to your -- so that's the long 16 answer, almost, not to your question, but to a different 17 question. But the answer is, yes, to your question. That was 18 the entire privilege log that's been served.

19 THE COURT: I'm perfectly fine to give the parties a 20 chance to work this out. So that's fine. We don't have to 21 address the substance of it today and hopefully, you could 22 work it out, and if you can't, raise it at the appropriate 23 time.

24 MR. SLATER: Thank you.

25 THE COURT: The next item I have on my list is the

1 pace of defendants' production. We deal with this issue every 2 conference, Mr. Slater. I don't know what to tell you.

3 The outside date, because the production is 4 November 29th, you're going to start your deps hopefully 5 January 15th. I said it before, Mr. Slater, and again, in 6 every case that I handle, if defendants produce documents late 7 that should have been produced ahead of time, it's going to be 8 in my order, you'll get a chance to redepose the witness and 9 it will be the law of the case.

10 So I think that's only fair. We can't wait until the 11 defendants produce every last scrap of piece of paper to start 12 deps and the defendants continually represent they're making 13 good faith efforts to produce documents. I don't know what 14 else this Court can do.

15 MR. SLATER: Your Honor, it's Adam Slater, and if 16 anyone on my team wants to supplement what I'm saying. What 17 we're really trying to do is to just let the Court know of our 18 concern because we didn't want at the end to have not kept 19 Your Honor aware.

20 We can just tell you that the document production to 21 date, the numbers of documents and pages are very, very low, 22 compared to what we expect, and we just really want to 23 continue to make a record that we are asking the defendants, 24 for example, when are the custodial productions for any 25 witnesses going to be complete. So far their response or

1 standing is that -- witness's custodial production is done, 2 because we've asked the question of every defendant, are any 3 of them done, and the answer has been no, or there's been no 4 response.

5           So that's concerning, and you understand, I know,
6 where we're coming from, and there's also things that we're 7 doing now in discussions that we're having, such as, you know, 8 prioritizing deponents and things like that, which, you know,
9 we're making the decisions at this point based on what we know 10 and we, of course, are just trying to protect our record to 11 make it clear that, you know, we don't have all the 12 information. So there could be somebody who's in 32nd place 13 to be an important witness and then their key documents come 14 to us November 28th and that person is bumped up to, you know, 15 fourth in line or something.

16           We know you understand this, but we also just want to 17 make a point of letting the Court know our concern that the 18 raw numbers of documents are very concerning. We find it hard 19 to believe we're not going to get a quote unquote document 20 dump as compared to what's been produced in the month of 21 November, which was always saying that would never happen.

22           So we're just trying to protect the record and to 23 also just, you know, flag for Your Honor, again, that there's 24 a lot of other things going on now, or at least some other 25 things going on that are dependent on our knowledge of the

1 case and our knowledge of which witnesses matter and the 2 documents which we just simply don't have. Thank you.

3 THE COURT: If you're worried about documenting the 4 record that you believe, you, plaintiffs, believe the document 5 production is not proceeding as rapidly as it is, as it should 6 be, rather, I'm confident that the record is pretty clear on 7 that.

8 MR. SLATER: Thank you.

9 THE COURT: But just as clear, just as clear is the 10 defendants' position, that they're complying with the Court's 11 orders and they're acting in good faith, and we'll just have 12 to see at the end of the day where things wind up. But you 13 heard me say today that the November 29th date is not going to 14 be extended, nor is the date to take the depositions. So 15 we're full steam ahead.

16 The last issue -- well, I just want to talk about 17 scheduling before we go any further. I know we have a call at 18 the end of the month, October 28th. I'm looking at November's 19 calendar. The mid-month call is November 11th, it's Veterans 20 Day, but I still propose that we hold it.

21 When we get to November, I don't think anyone wants 22 to have a call the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. So I would 23 propose to move the November call to November 24, 10 o'clock.

24 Does anyone have an objection?

25 MR. SLATER: No, Your Honor, makes a lot of sense.

1 MR. GOLDBERG: No objection from defendants, Your
2 Honor.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Then I'm looking at December and 4 then we have our mid-month call on December 9th, and I'd 5 prefer not to have the call on December 23rd, it's too close 6 to Christmas Eve, and people hopefully will be enjoying the 7 holidays.

8 Is there any objection to moving the December call to 9 December 22nd, the Tuesday, instead of the Wednesday?

10 MR. SLATER: No objection.

11 MR. GOLDBERG: No objection from defendants, Your 12 Honor.

13 THE COURT: Okay. So that completes the issues this 14 Court wanted to address with the parties and I think I 15 addressed all the issues in the letters.

16 As we do in all calls, for the good of the order, are 17 there any other issues anyone wants to address?

18 MR. SLATER: Your Honor, it's Adam Slater. I just 19 wanted to say hello to Judge Williams. I think I failed to 20 say hello to her, her being on the phone, I wanted to say 21 hello.

22 JUDGE WILLIAMS: Thank you. I appreciate the 23 recognition, but I'm just -- I'm a bystander for now.

24 MR. SLATER: Thank you.

25 MR. GOLDBERG: Your Honor, this is Seth Goldberg.

1 Just one issue.

2 Can we assume that the October end-of-the-month
3 conference is going to be teleconference and not in person?

4 THE COURT: Yes, yes, absolutely. That's absolute.
5 I'll make that clear, I can't say for certain about November 6 and December. I know Judge Kugler is anxious to get people in 7 person, but he recognizes the practicalities of the situation,
8 and obviously, we'll have to defer to concerns about health 9 and safety.

10 So I can't rule out an in-person conference before 11 the end of the year, but frankly, I would be surprised, but 12 it's probably too early to say what's going to happen at the 13 end of November and December.

14 Any other issues, Counsel?

15 MR. GOLDBERG: None for defendants, Your Honor.

16 MR. SLATER: Nothing for plaintiffs, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you all. I'll confirm all 18 of these rulings in an order. As is always the case, if 19 there's any issue that comes up that will help advance the 20 ball, you don't have to wait until October 28 to raise it.
21 You know how to reach me, and I hope everyone stays safe, and 22 there being no further business, we're adjourned. Thank you 23 all.
